Ally membership is available to companies in our Travel Partners and Affiliated Industries stakeholder groups. Ally membership offers powerful travel analysis and statistics, timely perspectives on the advocacy landscape, the opportunity to lend your voice to travel's most important priorities and the ability to highlight your affiliation with U.S. Travel.

Travel Partners are companies providing products and services to the travel industry, including meeting and event services companies, marketing, advertising and PR firms, research and consulting companies, technology companies, insurance providers and transportation original equipment manufacturers.

Affiliated Industries are companies that significantly benefit from a growing travel industry but do not exclusively operate within travel, including credit card companies and banks, CPG companies, food service companies, real estate companies, consulting firms, media companies and non-U.S. air carriers, airports and destinations.

► Member benefits are organization-wide; each employee receives access to these benefits through an Ally membership.
