The Movement Starts September 8
Campaign Logo and Walk Up

WHEN IT’S TIME FOR YOU, WE’LL BE READY

Let’s Go There, Soon

The official campaign logo (also referred to as lock-up or tagline lock-up), can be used on all materials and imagery related to the Let’s Go There campaign to inspire travelers to look forward to, plan and book future travel.

The “When it’s time for you, we’ll be ready” walk up portion of the logo aims to remind Americans that this campaign is inspirational, geared toward planning and future commitment and that travel brands and businesses remain ready to welcome them when circumstances allow.

Let’s Go There, Soon can be used by destinations or travel businesses within a destination that are unable to market to out-of-state travelers due to quarantines, local government restrictions, rising coronavirus cases, resident sentiment or other limitations. The “soon” addition to the logo allows these businesses and organizations to still be part of the larger campaign, but focus more on providing inspiration for planning for future travel, not necessarily on taking action now. A secondary audience can be reaching local travelers.
The “Therefinder”

The “Therefinder” is designed to spark inspiration so travelers can see themselves in a destination or location. It also provides visual continuity among campaign assets. It can be used on campaign materials to highlight specific points of interest or activities, as pictured below.

Tips for Handling Negative Responses

Regularly monitor feedback and comments on all your posts.

It is not necessary to respond to every negative comment. If an account appears to be baiting responses with very few followers (otherwise known as a social media troll), there is no need to respond. But watch for any increase in negative comments and trends and adjust tone if needed.

If your company policy allows, consider turning off comments or deleting/hiding responses that are negative.

Follow official accounts for the latest local COVID-19 news in your area and adjust messaging as needed to reflect developments and have a source to provide updated information to your followers.

Sample responses to comments:

• It is irresponsible to promote travel right now...
  The safety of residents, employees and visitors is a top priority for all travel businesses in DESTINATION. We are encouraging Americans to start making plans to come to DESTINATION NICKNAME when the time is right for them, whenever that may be.

  Starting to plan for a trip can bring benefits like lower stress, better health and improved work performance. That's why we are encouraging Americans to start making plans—and have something to look forward to in the future.

• Is it safe to travel?
  We are closely monitoring safety trends in DESTINATION. Learn more about what is open and relevant travel restrictions [LINK].

• Why are you telling people to travel to my hometown?
  There is no better time to explore our own backyard and support the local businesses that make up our community. We are also here to remind people all that DESTINATION has to offer and to inspire future travel plans when the time is right.

The Let's Go There campaign is a new industrywide effort to inspire Americans to do what is exciting, safe and productive: make plans to travel.

Developed by the Let's Go There Coalition, the goal of the campaign is to reignite America's sense of wanderlust and encourage travelers to look ahead at their next getaway—whenever the time is right.

The Let's Go There, Soon iteration of the campaign heavily emphasizes inspiration as a precursor of planning, with a focus on future travel. Destinations who are currently unable to market out of state—or discouraged from marketing at all—should be able to join the larger campaign through this messaging.
