Within this Resource Guide are myriad ways that the U.S. Travel Association (U.S. Travel) strives to increase travel to and within the United States. Please consider joining your colleagues and fellow industry leaders at one of the U.S. Travel's premier membership levels.

In summary, U.S. Travel provides member value through core programs such as IPW, ESTO, the National Councils, Meetings Mean Business, and leading expert economic analysis and market-based research.

As the guide reveals, premier membership in U.S. Travel is a truly rewarding experience that also makes a great return on your investment. We hope that you'll make the decision to become associated with us. Judith Harris, Vice President of Member Services would be happy to answer any questions you may have about benefits enjoyed by members of the Board of Directors.

Sincerely,

U.S. TRAVEL ASSOCIATION OVERVIEW

Board of Directors

 ustravel.org/about-us

About the Board of Directors:

- Our Board of Directors consists of more than 175 leaders in the travel industry
- Board Meetings 3 times per year: Spring and Fall meeting held in Washington, DC, Summer meeting held in another U.S. location

Guiding Principles:

- Ensure networking opportunities
- Spur interactive engagement
- Make efficient use of time
- Provide external perspectives and points of view through guest speakers, discussing current issues/challenges

Board Meeting Objectives:

Provide input, ensure agreement and support for direction of the association.

Four-Year Plan (2015-2018): Strategic Priorities

Leverage research and communications to validate the impact of travel and craft effective messages that together make the case for travel and create a platform for growth.

Enhance the industry's influence and leverage travel's impact to expand our relationship with the federal government, positioning US Travel and our industry as a critical voice and leader on matters of importance to travel.

Provide members with insights and information on trends and technologies impacting travel, educating them on the value of travel, creating networking opportunities and mobilizing the industry around common priorities and messages.

Enable travel growth by easing the process of travel, removing barriers and managing threats to the industry. Help shape the future of travel, both domestically and internationally to create a positive environment for travelers.

U.S. Travel membership is vital to our organization. First and foremost, US Travel leads our industry. Secondly, it helps us inform and educate our members. And thirdly, it allows us to collaborate here in the Nation's Capitol to accomplish important things for our industry, our businesses and our employees.

- Brad Dean, CEO,
Discover Puerto Rico

WHY U.S. TRAVEL IS A SMART INVESTMENT

Unite as One Industry, One Voice

U.S. Travel works every day in Washington, D.C. to protect the interests of the U.S. travel industry. U.S. Travel represents members through a coordinated, cohesive strategy to communicate our industry's concerns and priorities to elected and appointed federal officials.

With U.S. Travel's strong commitment to public affairs, members will enjoy greater involvement in domestic issues and benefit from our efforts on policy and research, strategic communications and grassroots support. This enhanced capability will enable U.S. Travel to proactively improve the travel process, not sit back as obstacles to travel continue to mount.

But, the most critical resource that will elevate this industry in Washington and give us greater clout with lawmakers is YOU!

Travel leaders are our greatest assets and our greatest advocates. You can speak with Members of Congress from a position of real strength as business leaders and constituents. Become part of a collective, unified and amplified voice for the travel community.

Chairman's Circle membership really allows Marriott to have a seat at the table with other CEOs and high level executives in the industry so they can share best practices and talk about ways to work together to advocate for policies that are better for the industry.

- Melissa Flood, Vice President,
Social Impact & Public Affairs, Marriott International
